Dear parents and carers,

As we approach the final stretch of the term, the countdown to a well-deserved break and some precious family time is truly on.

This week, we were bursting with pride as our football teams represented our school brilliantly at the Partnership Tournament. Not only did they play with skill and determination, but their exemplary behaviour stood out above all other schools. A huge well done to all involved, you've made us incredibly proud!

On Tuesday, we were delighted to welcome Paul, the Vicar, into school. He took Murphy Class down to the church to explore how it serves the local community, helping to bring their learning to life through a real-world context.

Also, this week, all of our teachers attended a joint staff meeting at The Blake School, where they brought along writing samples from every year group. These were moderated alongside writing from other schools in our partnership. It was a fantastic opportunity to share ideas, reflect on standards, and pick up some new tips of the trade.

As part of our commitment to supporting every child, I took part in SEN assessment training this week. It's incredibly important to look beyond academic progress and deepen our understanding of the whole child. Progress isn't always academic, it can be social, emotional, or behavioural - and recognising this is key to providing truly effective, personalised support.

Looking ahead to our final week of term, we're excited to welcome many of you to Parents' Evening. This is always a special chance to reflect on how far your children have come and share in their achievements. We're also preparing for a visit from our School Improvement Advisor - a regular part of our journey as we continue to strive, improve, and grow as a school community. Thank you, as always, for your continued support. Let's finish the term strong and with plenty to celebrate!

Rhiannon Abberley, Headteacher - Be kind, be curious, be you!
